The plan is for Mathy to leave Chicago Thursday evening at 7:21 pm on United flight 1127 to Denver. Then take United flight 3694 arriving in Durango at 11:12 pm.

On Friday, he can take the 4:45 pm flight from Durango to Denver. Then take the 7:50 pm flight from Denver to Dulles, arriving at 1:15 am.

Please let us know if this works. Including Teresa and Caroline to assist with travel. Thanks. Becky

Yes, Thursday would work, with the hope that you could stay through Friday, Mathy. I have been talking with Becky Brooks, and our hope is that we could get you up to the mine site while you are here, so staying through early afternoon on Friday would be great to accomplish both county meetings and a site tour. I know that Becky is meeting with you in Chicago shortly – so once you have connected, Becky will connect with me.

Thanks

Adding Nancy.

Yes, Thur should work but Nancy is doing the logistics and can confirm.

Shaun: what was the result of Friday's conversation with State of Colorado folks regarding attendance at Superfund NPL meeting?
What are potential options this week - assuming I can come out?
Could the meeting be mid to late afternoon on wed? What are the logistics of getting to the area - is it possible for me to come mid afternoon on wed and leave that evening?

Weekend Report from R8

Gold King Mine and Discussion of NPL -- This week, Mathy and I are coordinating to participate in meetings with both San Juan County Commission (Silverton) and LaPlata County Commission (Durango) to discuss options for more comprehensively addressing the acid mine drainage flowing into the Animas River from various mines above Silverton.

San Juan County, which has resisted an NPL listing, adopted a resolution last week together with the Silverton Town Council urging federal funding. Commissioners subsequently clarified that they believe NPL should be on the table for consideration. They have invited EPA to participate in a meeting to discuss options and funding mechanisms for long-term reclamation. LaPlata County, which is also pushing hard for long-term reclamation, has invited EPA to brief the Commission on the NPL listing process. We are still working out the logistics for the two separate meetings. If Mathy is unable to attend due to conflicts with his travel to the Brownfields Summit, we will consider another OSWER representative coming out, or possibly requesting that we postpone the discussion.
